Today we are going to be comparing and contrasting an area in the UK with an area in Scandinavia.

What does this mean exactly?

When you are comparing and contrasting two different areas, you are looking at what elements are similar and what elements are different between the two locations. To do this, you can look at a variety of human and physical features in each place and analyse what is the same, what is similar and what is different about each one.

What similarities and differences can you spot between these two locations? Think about both human and physical features.

What kinds of questions could we ask when we are comparing two different locations?
