

Plotting the story on a Story Mountain
Me, the Queen and Christopher!

You can either cut and stick the following onto your story mountain, write them in or you could even just discuss where they go with someone else.

Don't forget

- The beginning of the story is where character's are introduced and the scene is set.
- The middle of the story is where a problem occurs or exciting events happen.
- The end of the story is where the problems are resolved and in many stories there is a 'happily ever after' ending.
