

A Sticky Situation

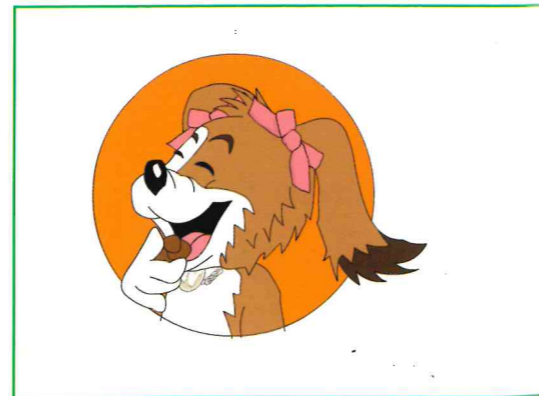

Naughty Nora was in disgrace. Discovery Dog had returned from a shopping trip to find the kitchen in a mess. While he had been away with Kate, his owner, that naughty niece of his had shredded the newspaper, made a puddle on the floor, spilt her food dish, made holes in Discovery Dog's favourite toys and scratched big marks on the kitchen door.

While Discovery Dog and Kate were repairing the damage, Naughty Nora was looking for more mischief. While they weren't looking she sniffed out a big bag of Doggie-Chocs.....her all time favourite chocolate treat. Naughty Nora grabbed the bag between her teeth, sneaked out of the front door and raced round to the patio. She struggled to open the bag but after lots of shaking and growling she managed to free the chocolate.

Oh joy! What a delicious delight.

"Yummy, scrummy chocolate!"

After eating a few of the chocolate treats Naughty Nora suddenly felt rather thirsty. It was a very warm day and the chocolate made her mouth sticky.

Leaving the chocolate in the hot sunshine Nora raced over to the fish pond for a drink of cool water.

The thought of more delicious chocolate was still on her mind when she heard Kate and Discovery Dog coming out into the garden.

"Oh dear! More trouble!"

She dashed over to where she had left the chocolate and, having no time to hide it, she decided to.....SIT on it!

The chocolate no longer felt hard. All the chocolate treats began to stick together. It became soft and squelchy, like chocolate sauce.

It stuck to her feathery tail and the curly fur on her bottom.

It matched the chocolate that was already stuck to her whiskers.

"You little monster," said Kate, trying not to laugh.

"Bath-time for you!"

Discovery Dog looked at the pool of melted chocolate.

"I wonder if Naughty Nora could have found a better place to keep the chocolate?"

Can you help him?
