

HEDDON-ON-THE-WALL ST. ANDREW'S CE PRIMARY SCHOOL

POLICY STATEMENT FOR RELATIONSHIPS AND SEX EDUCATION

'God is love. Whoever lives in love lives in God, and God in him.'

1 John 4:16

Rationale

The school strongly believes that all children are uniquely made in the image of God and unconditionally loved by Him. Everyone is equal and is treated with dignity and respect. The development of the whole child to become what God wants them to be is central to the purpose of the school. This policy is founded in the school's belief in the Gospel values such as truth, justice and love.

We undertake to follow the principles in the Church of England Charter for sensitive and inclusive Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) (see Appendix 2).

Legal Duties

The Relationships Education, Relationships and Sex Education, and Health Education (England) Regulations 2019 are made under sections 34 and 35 of the Children and Social Work Act 2017, and provide that pupils receiving primary education must be taught Relationships Education and that all primary and secondary pupils must be taught Health Education. The new subjects of Relationships Education and RSE must be taught in all maintained schools, academies and independent schools.

However, we are not required to provide Sex Education but we do need to teach the elements of Sex Education contained in the Science National Curriculum.

In teaching RSE, we have regard to guidance issued by the Secretary of State as outlined in section 403 of the Education Act 1996 and to the Relationships Education, Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) and Health Education which schools have been encouraged to adopt from September 2019 but which is mandatory from September 2020.

The Equalities Act 2010

The Headteacher as lead is responsible for ensuring school complies with the relevant provisions of the Equality Act 2010 under which religion or belief are amongst the protected characteristics. (See also Public Sector Equality Duty (PSED) s.149 of the Equality Act).

RSE will be delivered in a way that affords dignity and shows respect to all who make up our diverse community. It will not discriminate against any of the protected characteristics in the Equality Act¹ and will be sensitive to the faith and beliefs of those in the wider school community. RSE will seek to explain fairly the tenets and varying interpretations of religious communities on matters of sex and relationships and teach these viewpoints with respect. It will value the importance of faithfulness as the underpinning and backdrop for relationships. It will encourage pupils to develop the skills needed to disagree without being disagreeable, to appreciate the lived experience of other people and to live well together.

For children with Special Educational Needs (SEND) we will ensure that they receive RSE and we will offer provision appropriate to the needs of all our children, taking specialist advice where necessary.

This policy should be read in conjunction with the following policies:

- Child Protection Policy (including Female Genital Mutilation and Forced Marriage);
- Peer on Peer Abuse Policy (including 'upskirting' and 'sexting');
- Anti-Bullying Policy;
- Promoting Positive Behaviour Policy;
- Intimate Care Policy;
- Online Safety Policy including Acceptable Use Policy;
- Special Educational Needs Policy;
- Confidentiality and Whistle Blowing Policy;
- Information Sharing Policy;
- Spiritual, Moral, Social and Cultural Curriculum inclusive of Female Genital Mutilation, Domestic Abuse, Child Sexual Exploitation, Mental Health and Well-being and Fundamental British Values.

Definitions

Relationships and Sex Education is about the emotional, social and cultural development of children, and involves learning about 'age appropriate' healthy relationships, sexual health, sexuality, healthy lifestyles, diversity and personal identity.

RSE involves a combination of sharing information, and exploring issues and values.

RSE is not about the promotion of sexual activity or of any specific lifestyle.

Aims and Objectives

As part of their preparation for life the school aims to:

¹ The protected characteristics are age, disability, gender reassignment, race, religion or belief, sexual orientation, marriage or civil partnership and pregnancy and maternity.

- Prepare children to cope with the physical and emotional challenges of growing up;
- Introduce them to an age appropriate understanding of human reproduction;
- Explore and develop healthy relationships with family, friends and community.

The School teaches children about:

- Respect for their own bodies;
- The importance of family life;
- Moral questions;
- Relationship issues;
- Consent;
- Respect for the views of other people.

Content

The School curriculum is set out as per Appendix 1 but we may adapt it as and when necessary. The curriculum uses the materials and scheme of work provided by The Christopher Winters Project: Teaching RSE with Confidence in Primary Schools (2019). This programme is spiral meaning key concepts are revisited and strengthened across the children's time in primary school.

At Heddon-on-the-Wall St. Andrew's CE Primary School 'Relationships' is taught as a core theme within PSHE Education and much of the lessons at Foundation Stage, Key Stage 1 and 2 are taught through PSHE.

Lessons focus on the emotional aspects of development and relationships:

- How to develop and maintain a variety of healthy relationships;
- How to recognise and manage emotions within a range of relationships;
- How to recognise risky or negative relationships including all forms of bullying and abuse;
- How to respond to risky or negative relationships and ask for help;
- How to respect equality and diversity in relationships;
- Teaching should reflect the law so young people understand what the law does/does not allow (Equality Act 2010);
- How to manage change such as puberty, transition, loss.

Primary sex education will focus on the physical aspects of puberty and reproduction as part of National Curriculum Science and PSHE:

- Preparing boys and girls for the changes to their bodies that adolescence brings;
- How a baby is conceived and born.

The session about how a baby is conceived and born is delivered with both a male and female member of staff present including the class teacher. Questions that children may want answers to are written anonymously and posted in advance of the session.

Children are taught the correct names for both female and male genitalia (vagina and penis) from Early Years. Not only does this fall within the requirements of the Science curriculum it is also an essential part of safeguarding children.

Content around Female Genital Mutilation in the programme is age appropriate and would only be addressed with Year 6 children if the School felt it was required and delivery would be cohort specific taking into account the needs of the children.

Delivery of RSE

RSE is taught by the class teacher. The programme used by the School has three planned sessions per year (four sessions in Year 6) to deliver the core teaching which are then followed up and embedded within the wider Personal, Social and Health (PSHE) Education curriculum by the class teacher. Biological aspects of RSE are taught within the Science curriculum, and other aspects are included in Religious Education (RE). Elements related to being online are threaded through the Computing and E-Safety curriculum.

Relationships education focuses on teaching the fundamental building blocks and characteristics of positive relationships including:

- Families and people who care for me;
- Caring friendships;
- Respectful relationships;
- Online relationships;
- Being safe.

These areas of learning are taught within the context of family life taking care to ensure that there is no stigmatisation of children based on their home circumstances (families can include single parent families, LGBT parents, families headed by grandparents, adoptive parents, foster parents/carers amongst other structures) along with reflecting sensitively that some children may have a different structure of support around them (for example: looked after children or young carers).

Parents are informed via letter prior to the core sessions being delivered and are invited into School to view the materials if they so wish before they are used with children.

Confidentiality

Staff conduct Relationships and Sex Education lessons in a sensitive manner and confidence. If a learner indicates that they may have been a victim of abuse this matter will be taken seriously and dealt with as a disclosure.

In such circumstances the member of staff will speak to the learner as a matter of urgency and all concerns will be shared with the Designated Strategic Lead for Child Protection (Mr. A. Wheatley, Headteacher, Mrs. F. O'Reilly, Key Stage 2 Co-ordinator or Mrs. H. Abbott, Early Years and Key Stage 1 Co-ordinator). The Child Protection Policy will be initiated and the disclosure dealt with in line with the specified protocols and procedures.

See Child Protection Policy for further details please click here.

Roles and responsibilities

The Academy Committee: The Academy Committee will approve the RSE policy, and hold the Headteacher to account for its implementation.

The Headteacher: The Headteacher is responsible for ensuring that RSE is taught consistently across the school, and for managing parent/carer requests to withdraw pupils from non-statutory/non-science components of Sex Education within RSE.

The Staff: Staff are responsible for:

- Delivering RSE in a sensitive way;
- Modelling positive attitudes to RSE;
- Monitoring progress;
- Responding to the needs of individual pupils particularly those with Special Educational Needs;
- Responding appropriately to pupils whose parents wish them to be withdrawn from the non-statutory/non-science components of sex education within RSE.

Staff do not have the right to opt out of teaching RSE. Staff who have concerns about teaching RSE are encouraged to discuss this with the Headteacher. All teaching staff are responsible for the teaching of RSE in school and the programme content is supported by school health.

Children: Children are expected to engage fully in RSE and, when discussing issues related to RSE, treat others with respect and sensitivity.

The right to be excused from Sex Education

Parent and carers have the right to request that their child be withdrawn from some or all of the Sex Education delivered in the School as part of statutory RSE.

Parents wishing to withdraw their child from Sex Education are requested to put this request into writing (Please see Appendix 3 for the form to use). Prior to requests being granted it is good practice to meet with the Headteacher to discuss the decision and to clarify the nature and purpose of the curriculum. This discussion will also include consideration of the benefits of receiving this important education and any detrimental effects that withdrawal might have on the child. This could include any social and emotional effects of being excluded, as well as the likelihood of the child hearing their peers' version of what was said in the classes, rather than what was directly said by the teacher. Although the detrimental effects may be mitigated if the parents propose to deliver Sex Education to their child at home instead. Records of this discussion will be kept.

The Headteacher will automatically grant a request to withdraw a pupil from any Sex Education delivered in primary schools, other than as part of the Science National Curriculum.

Parents and carers do not have the right to withdraw children from any elements of Relationships Education.

Monitoring and Review

The Academy Committee have designated Mrs. L. Henderson, as the Academy Committee Member with specific responsibility for Relationships and Sex Education within the School. Through visits and discussion with the Headteacher, staff and children he reports back to the Curriculum Committee on an annual basis. This Committee reports its findings and recommendations to the full Academy Committee on an annual basis.

The Curriculum Committee gives serious consideration to any comments from parents or carers about the Sex and Relationships Education programme and makes a written record of all such comments.

Parental views will be sought through a parental meeting and in written / electronic format after circulation of the draft policy. This will be done annually.

The Academy Committee require the Headteacher to keep a written record, giving details of the content and delivery of the Sex and Relationships Education programme that is taught in school.

Policy review takes place on an annual basis.

Non-Statutory Sex Education
10a	The Department for Education continues to recommend therefore that all primary schools should have a sex education programme tailored to the age and the physical and emotional maturity of the children. It should ensure that boys and girls are prepared for the changes that adolescence brings and - drawing on the knowledge of the human life cycle set out in the National Curriculum for Science - how a baby is conceived and born.	The School curriculum as stated forms a spiralling curriculum of RSE. The Sex Education element is in line with the requirements of the Science National Curriculum. Lessons regarding puberty are part of the statutory Health Education. The Northumberland School Health Team may lead a separate session looking at how a baby is conceived and born. This session may also include age appropriate discussions on adult sexuality. This is adapted in line with the needs and maturity of the children through discussion with the class teacher. Parents will be given the opportunity to view the materials prior to them being delivered in School. Parents have the right to withdraw their child from this session.

A CHARTER FOR FAITH SENSITIVE AND INCLUSIVE RELATIONSHIPS AND SEX EDUCATION (RSE)

In Heddon-on-the-Wall St. Andrew's CE Primary School we seek to provide Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) which will enable all pupils to flourish.

We commit:

1. To work in partnership with parents and carers. This will involve dialogue with parents and carers through all stages of policy development as well as discussing the resources used to teach their children and how they can contribute at home. It must, however, be recognised that the law specifies that what is taught and how it is taught is ultimately a decision for the school.
2. That RSE will be delivered professionally and as an identifiable part of PSHE. It will be led, resourced and reported to parents in the same way as any other subject. There will be a planned programme delivered in a carefully sequenced way. Staff will receive regular training in RSE and PSHE. Any expert visitors or trainers invited into the school to enhance and supplement the programme will be expected to respect the school's published policy for RSE.
3. That RSE will be delivered in a way that affords dignity and shows respect to all who make up our diverse community. It will not discriminate against any of the protected characteristics in the Equality Act² and will be sensitive to the faith and beliefs of those in the wider school community. RSE will seek to explain fairly the tenets and varying interpretations of religious communities on matters of sex and relationships and teach these viewpoints with respect. It will value the importance of faithfulness as the underpinning and backdrop for relationships. It will encourage pupils to develop the skills needed to disagree without being disagreeable, to appreciate the lived experience of other people and to live well together.
4. That RSE will seek to build resilience in our pupils to help them form healthy relationships, to keep themselves safe and resist the harmful influence of pornography in all its forms. It will give pupils opportunities to reflect on values and influences including their peers, the media, the internet, faith and culture that may have shaped their attitudes to gender, relationships and sex. It will promote the development of the wisdom and skills our pupils need to make their own informed decisions.

5. That RSE will promote healthy resilient relationships set in the context of character and virtue development. It will reflect the vision and associated values of the school, promote reverence for the gift of human sexuality and encourage relationships that are hopeful and aspirational. Based on the school's values it will seek to develop character within a moral framework based on virtues such as honesty, integrity, self-control, courage, humility, kindness, forgiveness, generosity and a sense of justice but does not seek to teach only one moral position.
6. That RSE will be based on honest and medically accurate information from reliable sources of information, including about the law and legal rights. It will distinguish between different types of knowledge and opinions so that pupils can learn about their bodies and sexual and reproductive health as appropriate to their age and maturity.
7. To take a particular care to meet the individual needs of all pupils including those with special needs and disabilities. It will ensure that lessons and any resources used will be accessible and sensitive to the learning needs of the individual child. We acknowledge the potential vulnerability of pupils who have special educational needs and disabilities(SEND) and recognise the possibilities and rights of SEND pupils to high quality Relationships and Sex Education.
8. To seek pupils' views about RSE so that the teaching can be made relevant to their lives. It will discuss real life issues relating to the age and stage of pupils, including friendships, families, faith, consent, relationship abuse, exploitation and safe relationships online. This will be carefully targeted and age appropriate based on a teacher judgment about pupil readiness for this information in consultation with parents and carers.
